Who we are

We're a team of professionals who work together to support young people. Our team includes mental health experts, youth workers, family support, art therapists, occupational Therapist and speech and language specialists.

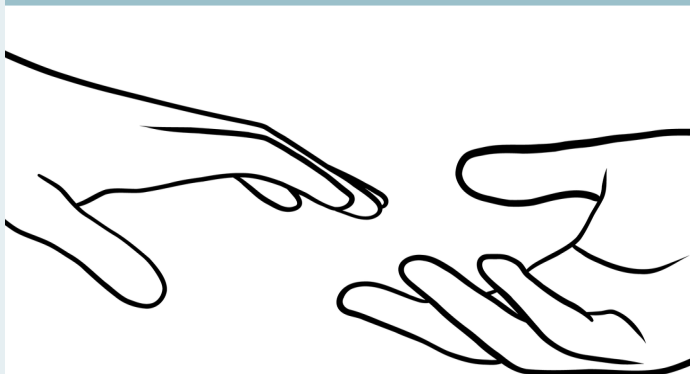

By working as one, we help meet each young person's emotional, social, and developmental needs alongside their education.

Who we support

We support children who are learning through Gloucestershire Hospital Education Service (GHES) or the Altus School

What we do

- Build strong, trusting relationships with children, families, and professionals.
- Support children and families in schools, homes, and communities—both in person and online.
- Offer tailored support to meet individual needs.
- Carry out assessments to understand underlying challenges.

What we can support with

 Building self-esteem and confidence

 Goal setting and decision-making

 Accessing community activities

 Referrals and signposting

 Advocacy and voice

 Support in meetings
